As I am sure that most of you are aware, Hurricane Irma poses a major threat to the eastern seaboard. We are contacting you to let you know that as insureds, we have a responsibility to protect our property. Since Savannah, Ga., is in the crosshairs of this massive storm, we want you to be aware that it is possible we will have to evacuate or be without power for an undetermined timeframe. If you should have any damage to your property, you have the responsibility to protect it from any further damages, i.e. cover a roof leak with a tarp to prevent further damage.

Please be patient with us, should this be the case, and know we will be working diligently to help you with any claims you might have.

Please stay safe. All the best.
